Sanctioning Shysters

The dignity of the legal profession has received a severe setback in Nevada during recent years. Time was when an attorney at law stood to the forefront of the various professions and the name of a barrister was something to conjure with. However, that was in the days that have gone when the legal practitioners exercised undue vigilance in admitting a stranger to their profession.

An attorney was supposed to stand for all that was honorable and to assist in keeping the reputation of the courts inviolate. The present day attorney of Nevada is quite to the contrary when compared with the members of the old guard. In that we do not mean all attorneys, for there are many who continue to adhere to the old standard. It is the divorce attorney to whom reference is made.

In Reno, for instance, where about eighty attorneys have their shingles exposed to the elements, can be found many of the latter day practitioners who care but little for precedent and less for the honor of their profession. There are many who cater to the divorce-seeking public and a few who are bold enough to loiter around hotels and surreptitiously hand out cards bearing their name and address and profession, with a small space in one corner announcing that divorce cases are a specialty.

At the present time in Reno there is an attorney who arrived in that city about eight months ago. Recently he filed his own suit for divorce. His lawyer has scattered his business cards all over the city and on the back of the cards is the announcement: "Call and see me whether you have business or not." With others of his kind he is exceedingly bold in approaching men and women who appear to be classed in the divorce-seeking class, and solicits his case. There are many instances related where attempts have been made to secure divorce clients at almost any price and it is frequently reported where such legal sharps have secured cases from other attorneys by reducing their price in half.

During the past two years the Washoe County Bar association has preferred charges against two attorneys for unprofessional conduct and both men have been disbarred from practicing law in this state by the supreme court. It is about time that the same association started a dozen similar investigations and cleaned their ranks of the most obnoxious members, who are not only a disgrace to the profession, but a disgrace to the state that shelters and encourages their kind.

Grub Staking the Farmer

The necessity of "grub-staking the farmer has been recognized by the republican national convention to meet this year, in the adoption of a section in the platform to the effect that "it is of great importance to the social and economic welfare of this country, that its farmers have facilities for borrowing easily and cheaply, the money they need to increase the productivity of their land. It is as important that financial machinery be provided to supply the demand of the farmers for credit, as it is that the banking and currency systems be reformed in the interest of general business. Therefore we recommend and urge an authoritative investigation of agricultural credit societies and corporations in other countries, and the passage of state and federal laws for the establishment and capable supervision of organizations for the purpose of loaning funds to farmers."

The railroad companies in their comprehensive campaigns to secure colonists and homeseekers for the vast undeveloped agricultural empire of the west, civic organizations, who have worked to this end, have always been met by the lack of facilities for money by which the farmer could tide himself over until his first crop returns are realized.

Securing the land is comparatively an easy proposition. Where no government land is obtainable, it is usually easy to buy an area from 10 to 160 acres, on very easy terms. It is getting the land cleared and into crops, and the care of crops until they can be marketed, that affords a stumbling block to many prospective settlers. It is recognized that the farming area must be extended, and more acres cultivated to keep up with the present march of progress, but some financial system is needed to aid the farmer. In the cities one can buy anything from a baby buggy to a grand piano or a house and lot on the installment plan, and universally the miner or prospector is "grub-staked," but so far no system has been devised in this country for extending easy credit to the farmer anxious to clear new land, and become a productive factor in the community.

In foreign countries the plan has been most successfully employed. The peasants of France are landowners to an extent hardly realized in other countries. The saving system, which is sanctioned and directed by the government, is, to a certain extent, responsible for the thrifty spirit shown throughout France. The plan provides that a man may borrow on his land very close to the complete value, by arranging in advance the number of years that he will take to pay back the loan. His interest periods are then arranged at so much a year, the amount being greater or less, depending on how soon he intends that these payments should completely pay off his debt. Against the bonds and mortgages issued to supply these loans, the credit fancier issues its bonds in small amounts, bearing interest at 3 per cent or less, which are sold in large quantities to investors of moderate means. Germany has a chain of co-operative banks organized for the purpose of loaning money at low rates to small farmers.

COUNTY CLERK IS NOW READY FOR OFFICE SEEKERS

CANDIDATES MAY FILE THEIR DECLARATION IN READINESS FOR THE PRIMARIES

County Clerk Robert G. Pohl has received the necessary blanks at his office for the filing of candidates' names who are aspirants for the various township, county and state offices and now all that remains for the prospective office seeker to do is a real candidate is to visit the clerk and fill out the necessary blanks. In addition a small deposit of $25 is demanded.

From the number of candidates who will be out for office, in accordance with gossip as heard upon the curb stones, it is believed that the rush to the county clerk's office will soon be on. Owing to the primary law having been amended by the last legislature, candidates this year will not be forced to go to the expense of securing petitions containing the signatures of voters, as this expense has been eliminated.

The state offices for which aspirants can file their declaration or notice of candidacy at the county clerk's office include only the assembly and senate. Candidates for the remaining offices must file their applications with the secretary of state.

STOCK RANCH FOR SALE

3,000 acres of U. S. patented land in heart of Sonoma county, Cal.; the water rights control scattered fractions aggregating several hundreds of "possessory" title acres; all fenced and cross-fenced. Abundantly watered by flowing streams and living springs; now used for cattle and hogs; in a thermal belt where oranges, lemons, limes, etc., grow perfectly; hundreds of acres adapted to apples, prunes, cherries, pears, grapes, walnuts, almonds, etc. Some very rich garden, berry, corn and hay land. Only 2 1/2 miles from post and express offices, telephone, etc. A 1,000,000 gallon cooperage winery; not far from railroad and live towns. Owner is rich and retiring from active affairs of life. The price is but $10 per acre—$20,000—the "possessory" acres are free. Lots of timber and near markets. The delightful balmy climate is due to the county's near-by 70 miles of sea coast, and 40 inches annual rainfall. This is a great bargain for either investment or speculation. For further information apply at this office.
